3. The accrued interest from the beginning of the half-year up to the date of deposit of money by the buyer will be added to the buyer to the value of the security. He will, therefore, get interest on his money from the next day. The seller will have to lose interest for a few days till the sale money is actually paid to him from the treasury named by him. Against this, however, there will be the free transfer of money from one place to another.

4. A commission of $\frac{1}{4}$ per cent will be charged to the seller by the Comptroller and a similar commission to the buyer, both calculated on the face value of the security. The commission will be paid by the buyer along with the purchase money and the commission payable by the seller will be deducted by the Comptroller before the sale money is paid to the seller.

5. The rates of discount or premium at which transactions will be effected will depend on the rates at which buyers and sellers will come to agreement. Naturally sellers who offer to sell at the lowest rate will be able to sell first and similarly buyers who want to buy at the highest rate will get through their transactions most expeditiously.
